States, which chance to be close, will be contested in the same way.

We are not alarmists, but we submit thisss a very grave and serious peril. There is nothing to be gained by shutting the eyes to a danger which is so real and so near at hand. The desperation with which the Democrats are contending for supremacy, surpasses in bitterness and intensity anything which has been known in politics. That they are entirely unscrupulous as to what means they use is clearly shown by the dastardly devices which they are employing in the last days of the canvass.

THE TARIFF BUGABOO.

What "A Tariff for Revenue Only" Meas -David A. Wells, of the Cincinnati Platform Committee, and J. S. Moore Explain Where the Tariff Shoe Pinches.

The undersigned having been requested from various sources to explain what they understood by "A Tariff for Revenue

Only," submit the following statement: First—A tariff for revenue does not mean free trade; for, under the present system of deriving from duties on imports a large proportion of the revenue necessary to defray the large expenditure of the National Government, a tariff for revenue necessarily means a comparatively and absolutely high-variff, and one that in all absolutely high-tariff, and one that in all conscience ought to satisfy any reasonable demands for protection.

Second—A tariff for revenue does not mean a further continuance of high taxation (imposed originally and solely to meet the exigencies of a great war) in time of peace, when all necessity for such taxation has happily passed away.

Third—It does not mean the further continuance of a mixed system of duties; so much specifically per pound, per yard, per gallon or per busilel, and then in addition so much ad valorem. No ordinary person—often not experts—can readily erson—often not experts—can readily ell what such duties amount to in the aggregate. They were intentionally made complicated to prevent knowledge; they computations on the part of importers to deceive and on the part of officials to abuse their trust. Such duties ought to be repugnant to the whole moral sense of our people. They have made sinners faster than churches have made blankets, and the people of the United States me annually blankets to the value of $20 000,000. Now, the reason why only $5,000 worth of blankets were imported in 187-80 is that on the commonest, cheapest class of blankets, such as the poor man only can buy and must have, that the Roston Advertise the semiloves of the traveller, the semiloves of the state of the semiloves of th cent. ad valorem. Now, how many persons know how much these mixed duties amount to? They amount to 100 per cent. How many persons, when the facts are explained, would countenance such an out-and-out sieal? How many members of Congress would ever be returned by their constituents if they voted yea on a plain and simple proposition to tax an essential article of consumption to our poor to such a degree? In 1878 9 the duties on blankets were so heavy that almost none were imported, the Treasury deriving from our imports the pitful sum of $1,233 83, while the people were no doubt unnecessarily taxed over and above what the blanket mills could require for protection several mil.

It may be remembered that in 1878 this soldiers' roll business began to look discreptuable, and there was an examination. The Democratic world the promised to put Democratic soldiers in their places; and this is the way they did it. A.—Yes, sir.

Later in the investigation he was again on the stand, and in answer to an inquiry as to what was the nature of his services in the Union army during the Rebellion, he replied: "I did not do any; I belonged to an independent company in Boston!" There was much commodion about this fellow, but he had good Democratic backers, and he kept his place. Then there was another vacancy in the soldiers' roll, and in the words of Mr. Frye, of Maine, a galant horse marine stepped forward—William S. Dulin. Crippled? No. Disabled? No. Democrat? Yes, every time. You served, I suppose, in the Union army. No, sir; in the navy. You look quite young; when it did you enlist in the navy? In 1869, as apothecary's clerk. to the name of one Fitzhugh, when he said:

On looking at Fitzhugh every member of the Committee knew that he was not born when the war broke out; he could not have been a soldier. How he ever got on the sone principle that we pension children of dead soldiers. Fitzhugh's taste, the old Doorkeeper, that "biger man than old Grant," was a dead Democrat; there is no doubt about that. [Laughter] It may be that he was put on the soldiers roll because his father was a decased Democrat. But Polk does not say as the property of the doubt of roll, and the whole United States to draw from; yet you gentlemen who promised to treat us fairly could not keep the soldiers' roll rull to save your lives! You went to the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Confederate Army, the Union Army, the streets, the field. You picked up every body you pleased. You went to the independent companies; you went to the independent companies. You visited the muster field; you searched high and low, oroad and deep; yet Polk says that you could not keep your soldiers' roll full, and because you could not keep it full be put on Fitzhugh. Oh, spirit of the immortal Falstaff give us one hour of thy sense of our people. They have made sinners faster than churches have made sints. Such duties, furthermore, act as prohibitors of imports, and so dry upcommerce, increase enormously the cost of commodities to the people, and prevent the treasury from obtaining revenue.

In support of these statements, take the following illustration and proof: In 1879 and 1880 we imported $33,900,000 worth of woolen goods; in this vast amount only $5,022 in value represent imports of blankets, and the people of the United States and the people of the United States are annually blankets to the value of $20,000,000. Arousing its Readers.

An alarm of fire at midnight is a startling thing, but not half so startling to many who hear it as would be the sudden knowledge of their own dangerous physical condition. Thousands of thousands are burrying to their graves because they are carelessly indifferent to the insidious inroads of disease and the means of care. It is the mission of H. H.
